La Royal Porcelain Public Company Limited è stata fondata nel 1983. La fabbrica si trova a Kangoi in Thailandia ed è una delle maggiori produttrici di stoviglie dell'Asia, con una produzione annuale di 20.000 tonnellate.

La produzione è riconosciuta in tutto il mondo per l'altissima qualità, frutto di tecnologia avanzata e molti anni di esperienza e di abitudine ad operare nel mercato di alto livello fornendo anche alcuni dei maggiori protagonisti del settore.

La porcellana della Royal Porcelain, per soddisfare le più svariate richieste della clientela mondiale, offre una collezione variegata in molti stili, forme e decori.

La cottura in forno a 1.400 °C rende smalto e prodotto armonioso e duraturo.

La Maxadura, prodotto ultimo arrivato in casa Royal Porcelain, offre un'apparenza e trasparenza del tutto simili alla Bone China e nello stesso tempo, con l'aggiunta dell'Allumina, offre anche una resistenza e durata incomparabili.

Quasi tutti i prodotti Royal Porcelain sono testati sia per la cessione di cadmio e piombo sia per l'uso in lavastoviglie e microonde.

La Royal Porcelain per assicurare il miglior servizio alla clientela si è totalmente adeguata ai parametri ISO 9000, come verificato dalla società internazionale di certificazione Bureau Veritas Quality International (BVQI).

La missione della Royal Porcelain è di fornire prodotti di lusso con altissima qualità a costi accessibili.

Ci auguriamo di esservi riusciti.

The Royal Porcelain was originally founded in 1983. Has factories in Kangoi, Saraburi Province, with an annual production capacity of over 20.000 tons. Today, Royal Porcelain is one of the largest ceramic tableware manufacturers in Asia.

The products are widely acclaimed as premium quality chinaware in hospitality industry, both locally and internationally. This is because behind the name lies the emphasis on advanced technology, plus years of expertise and experience.

In order to satisfy the varied needs of worldwide customers and for the perfection of versatile catering, Royal Porcelain offers a wide variety of styles, shapes and patterns that are produced from selected materials, together with the most advanced technology, modern machines and the finest control in every production process.

Royal Porcelain is classified as hard porcelain which undergoes a modern and systematic production process. The high temperature firing of 1.400 °C makes the glaze and body harmonious and durable.

Royal Porcelain Maxadura offers a creamy appearance, but added Alumina enhance the strength of the body.

The products are renowned in offering a board professional assortment to compliment hotel gastronomy. A variety of shapes and designs are not only provided, but also consider criteria in hospital usage such as functionality, usability, space saving, hygiene and life duration. Besides, most of the decorative colors have been tested to be dishwasher and microwave safe. Meanwhile, lead and cadmium release has been tested in compliance with US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Standard. Moreover, the Company has received the Prime Minister's Export Award which the Thai government grants to the nation's exporters who have penetrated international markets by using their own brand names.

To ensure the customer satisfaction, the distinctions of ISO 9002 has been attained from the Bureau Veritas Quality International (BVQI) in 1999.

Royal Porcelain Public Company Limited's mission is not only to achieve an excellence in hospitality tableware production, but also to be socially responsible business in the world community.
